Newark, New Jersey.

Dear Sir:

I'll show you that your first impression of me being a resident of Greensboro was not a mistake. I never gave Winston a thought until you spoke of August 31. Speaking of Greensboro my father happens to be the owner of this resident, and the family of us is well thought of there. I could have prevented any other Athletic that may be played on August 31 which may be way below your admission, by me being well acquainted with the business men of Greensboro. But if you prefer the gentlemen of Winston to handle both cities then it will be O.K. Speaking of the expense and sending you the bill, you can forget that. I wouldn't want to be embarrassed by sending you a bill of the small amount. My interest was in seeing the game, and seeing how well the fans would turn out. I am sorry you are under the impression that I thought you would change to someone else to handle your business in this vicinity. I was letting you know that money could be made in the city of Greensboro, which seems that I haven't got ^{any} thanks for it.

Yours truly,
Weldon G. Shley
